

After the birth of our second child, we found ourselves in cramped quarters and in need of a new home. Luckily, we found a home in a neighborhood we liked and an outstanding mortgage consultant to help us along.

Mike Vrba took the time to explain in detail the various financing options available. He used easy to understand laymans terms. This allowed us a better understanding of the home loan process and we were able to choose the best plan of action to meet our present and long term financial goals. Rather than be overwhelmed, we found ourselves well informed and confident in our decisions.

Mr. Vrba kept us informed every step of the way throughout the loan application and approval process. He even called to congratulate us on our new home as the closing was completed.

We highly recommend Mike Vrba and have no doubt that he will provide the same superior service to all his future clients.
